

BUSINESS STORYTELLING

with professional storyteller
BARBARA H. CLARK

StoryMasters presents a 4-hour summer workshop, "Business Storytelling," led by Barbara H. Clark. During this workshop you'll learn to use stories to help you:

- Sell yourself to a prospective employer
- Sell your company to a potential client
- Get your ideas noticed at important meetings
- Give reports that persuade decision-makers

SUNDAY JUNE 25 OR SUNDAY JULY 23, 2017
from 1:00pm - 5:00pm cost $95

at Institute of Musical Arts
3210 W. 54th St, Los Angeles, CA 90043

Open to everyone. Each workshop limited to 12 people.

To register or for more information contact
Miyo Yamauchi at miyoccino@gmail.com

BARBARA H. CLARK is a professional storyteller who performs her own original works and also teaches storytelling workshops for adults. Formerly, she worked for L.A. Public Library, rising from librarian to Regional Administrator of 12 branch libraries. Having experienced business from both sides of the table, she has effectively merged storytelling and business serving as Board Chair and Artistic Director of the L. A. Institute of Musical Arts. Barbara has a B.A. degree from Howard University and a M.L.S. degree from University of Southern California.