

Toastmasters 90210 Presents

International Coach Calvin Chen

“The Art Of Confrontation: Why Is It So Important?”

Presented by the Executive Leadership Coach who has committed his career to high performance, leadership, and happiness.

Mon, Sep 20 at 7pm

- Have you ever attempted to hold someone accountable, and caused them to become defensive? Written someone off too quickly because of an unmet expectation? Unintentionally acted out your frustrations because you tried to let it go, but couldn't?
- In this workshop, you will learn how to hold people accountable at work, at home, and anywhere else – while building mutual trust and strengthening your relationship with each other.
- Harvard University, IBM, AT&T, CNBC, and hit reality TV show Vanderpump Rules have all paid Calvin to teach them the Art of Confrontation. You get to try it here at Toastmasters for free!

This event is free to attend on Zoom. To register, please sign up at toastmasters90210.org. You will receive the Zoom link upon registering.
